Summer Institutional Writing Retreat for Publication

Crafting Your Contribution: Writing for Visibility and Impact

The Research and Postgraduate Development Office, under the Directorate of Research, Innovation, and Partnerships, is excited to invite NUST postgraduate students and staff to an empowering five-day Summer Institutional Writing Retreat for Publication. This transformative experience is designed to help you shape, polish, and finalise your manuscript for submission to a peer-reviewed journal.

What You'll Gain

- Focused Writing Time: Uninterrupted daily blocks to work on your article in a distraction-free environment.
- Expert Mentorship: Guidance from experienced academic writers, editors, and journal reviewers to elevate the quality of your manuscript.
- Publication Strategy Support: Tips on journal selection, responding to reviewer comments, and submitting with confidence.
- Collaborative Environment: Engage in peer learning and exchange ideas with fellow researchers in a supportive space.

This Retreat for You, if:

- You are a NUST postgraduate student or staff member working on a manuscript for publication.
- Ready for concentrated time, expert feedback, and a community to support your writing goals.

Why Join?

- Publishing your research amplifies your voice, advancing knowledge and creating real-world impact.
- Strong publication records build the university's global reputation and open doors for future opportunities.
- Publishing strengthens your academic profile, boosting your career prospects and building confidence as a researcher.
